When will registration open?

Registration will open April 3, 2023, which is in alignment with the in-residence academic calendar. Registration will close based on the session identified for each course:

- 1st Term, Nine Week, and Whole Summer Term: June 6, 2023
- 2nd Term: July 13, 2023

What are the drop deadlines for UEX summer internships?

Students may initiate a drop of their internship course through the last class day of the summer term in which they are enrolled. Drop deadlines for summer internships are:

- 1st Term: July 6, 2023
- Nine Week: July 25, 2023
- 2nd Term and Whole Summer Term: August 11, 2023

How will students be added to UEX summer internship courses?

Students will register for their internship course on the UEX website. Colleges offering summer internship courses will provide specific instructions to students once their internship has been approved.

Does offering a course through UEX require any modifications to the course structure?

No changes are required to the structure of an internship course being offered through UEX.

How will internship courses transfer to students’ academic records?

UEX courses transfer to a student’s transcript through the Registrar’s Office. Grades will reflect on students’ records in a similar timeline as those established for main campus courses. For more information about UEX academic policies, please visit our FAQs for UT Austin Academic Advisors: https://extension.utexas.edu/faqs-ut-austin-academic-advisors.

Will the UEX internship course show up on a student’s course schedule?

No; this is a tool primarily designed to display courses offered through the main Registrar. However, advisors can view a student’s UEX registration status by going to the Course Info tab in Advisor’s Toolkit and reviewing the University Extension section in the All Courses or Course Info section. For more information about UEX academic policies, please visit our FAQs for UT Austin Academic Advisors: https://extension.utexas.edu/faqs-ut-austin-academic-advisors.

Can students still enroll in the zero-credit-hour Internship course offered by Texas Career Engagement, or their college?

Yes. These zero-credit courses are important resources, especially for students who do not need credit for their internships. The zero-credit options do not work for internships that students pursue in order to satisfy degree plan or other credit (certificate and minor) requirements.

Will course flags apply to internship courses taken through UEX?

Yes. Internship courses currently assigned a flag will also carry a flag when offered through University Extension.

Do University Extension courses count as in-residence credit?

University Extension courses do not count toward a student’s in-residence enrollment. However, students’ grades will automatically transfer and reflect on their transcript, and the grade earned will reflect in students’ cumulative GPAs. For more information about UEX academic policies, please visit our FAQs for UT Austin Academic Advisors: https://extension.utexas.edu/faqs-ut-austin-academic-advisors.

How do University Extension courses affect students’ in-residence GPA?
Grades earned through UEX will reflect in students’ cumulative GPAs, but not in their semester GPA. For more information about UEX academic policies, please visit our FAQs for UT Austin Academic Advisors: https://extension.utexas.edu/faqs-ut-austin-academic-advisors.

Is financial aid available to students enrolled in courses through University Extension?
Federal or state subsidized financial aid is not available if students are only taking courses with University Extension. However, in most cases, University Extension’s semester courses can count toward student’s full course load certification for financial aid and similar certifications as long as they meet the required minimum enrollment hours and are maintaining Satisfactory Academic Progress (SAP) for financial aid. Self-paced online courses do not count towards enrollment for financial aid purposes. Students can contact Texas One Stop for more information.

What is the payment process for students enrolling in UEX who will be receiving financial aid?
Students who will be receiving financial aid and are enrolling in a UEX summer internship will be required to pay for their internship course at the time of registration. If students are unable to pay for their internship prior to receiving their financial aid award, they should select “Check or Other” when registering and prompted for their payment method. Payment should be submitted upon receipt of award disbursement. Students who have not submitted payment by Thursday, June 8th, will be removed from their course.

What is the payment process for students included in the Texas Advance Commitment Program?
Students who are included in the Texas Advance Commitment Level 1 or Level 2 will have their tuition discount automatically applied at the time of registration.

Can research courses be included in the $500 UEX summer internship courses?
Research courses are not included in the Provost’s memo and are, therefore, not included in the $500 reduced rate offered through UEX.

The Provost’s memo indicated that the $500 reduced rate applied to off-campus internships. What about on-campus internships?
On campus internships have been approved for the $500 UEX summer internship initiative. However, if the on-campus internship does not apply to the student’s degree, they are encouraged to enroll in a zero-credit-hour course offered through Texas Career Engagement.